

A photograph of two people wearing large, realistic-looking rooster masks, sitting at a long wooden table in a restaurant or bar. The person on the left is holding a small, round, textured food item. The table is set with plates of food, glasses of orange juice, and other dining items. In the background, other patrons are visible, some looking towards the camera. A red, torn-edge graphic overlay is positioned on the left side of the image, containing white text.
